ONE

CHOOSE A MAJOR AND FAMILIARIZE YOURSELF WITH THE ACADEMIC COLLEGE GUIDELINES

Each college/major has its own admission requirements to Texas A&M. Meeting the Texas A&M minimum transfer requirements does not guarantee admission to specific colleges or majors.

SPECIFYING A MAJOR

You must apply to a specific major within an academic college and you will be given the option to list a second-choice major.

Second-choice majors are NOT considered by every college/major, and admission to a second-choice is often more competitive. See the Transfer Course Sheets for information concerning which majors do or do not review second-choice majors.

GRADE POINT AVERAGE (GPA)

A 2.5 GPA on a minimum of 24 hours of graded transferable coursework is required for review. Credit by examination courses (AP, IB, CLEP) will not count towards the 24 hours required for consideration for admission.

Grades for all transferable courses are used to calculate GPA, including: failing grades, repeated courses, Withdraw/Fail, Incomplete, etc. Texas A&M does not replace grades.

Grades reported as Incomplete are computed as an F. Plus and minus grade designations are not used; C+ is computed as a C, B- as a B, etc.

TWO

TRANSFER COURSE SHEETS

Now that you know the college and major you’re interested in, access major-specific information at admissions.tamu.edu/transfer.

Transfer Course Sheets outline recommended and required coursework for your intended major and provide information to assist you in the transfer process.

You can also visit tx.ag/transfereq for Texas A&M course equivalencies from other academic institutions.

The Texas Common Course Numbering System is a good resource for determining course equivalencies, tccns.org.

THREE

APPLY TO TEXAS A&M

Complete the entire admission application including Essay Topic A. The information you provide inside the transfer application will also be used for scholarship consideration. admissions.tamu.edu/transfer.

In addition to the application, other documents are also required. See page 3.
ADMISSIONS DECISIONS
Decisions are made by each college and major on a rolling basis with preference given to those with the highest GPA, the most appropriate courses for the specified college/major and a compelling essay.

If you are denied by your first-choice major, you may be reviewed by your second-choice major, but note that some majors do not review second-choice majors.

If you are applying for fall admission you may be asked to submit spring grades before a decision is made.

Frequent course drops/withdraws and unsatisfactory grades (D or F, depending on intended major) are considered in review.

You should include in-progress coursework on the application and college transcript. In-progress courses listed on an official transcript could factor into admission decisions depending on the college/major.

TIPS FOR APPLYING
Submit the application and required documents early in the admissions cycle. Allow 2-3 weeks to process each document.

Be sure to list all previous colleges or universities in the application. This includes dual credit institutions.

Check your application status online at howdy.tamu.edu via the Applicant tab. It is your responsibility to ensure receipt of all required documents and completion of the admissions file.

Required documents submitted within one month of the deadline may not be noted as received until after the deadline has passed.
