Coursework Timeline

- Competitive applicants will have all required coursework completed by the application deadline.
- Applicants to the spring term should have all required coursework completed by the end of Summer II before applying.
- Fall coursework will not be considered for spring applicants.
- Summer coursework will not be considered for summer/fall applicants.
- Applicants for summer/fall may be asked to submit spring final grades; this is not a guarantee.

Additional Transfer Requirements

- The Department of Agricultural Economics is looking for students who are interested in pursuing our degree as a focus. Students should indicate our department as the primary major they are interested in if they wish to be admitted. The essay and supporting materials should reflect that the student is intent on pursuing our degree.
- Meeting minimum requirements does not guarantee admission. The entire record is reviewed for consistency in coursework and grades.
- If you would like to be considered for the Agriculture Economics major in the event that you are denied admission to the Agribusiness program, Agricultural Economics must be listed on your application as your second choice major.
- We recommend meeting with an academic advisor prior to submitting the application.

Additional Information

- Applicants should be serious about earning a degree in the Department of Agricultural Economics.
- Transfer applicants are instructed NOT to accept transfer admission to any major with the expectation of later applying for an on-campus change of major.

Career & Educational Opportunities

The Bachelor of Science degree in Agribusiness combines selected Core Business Knowledge classes from a degree in Business with coursework emphasizing the understanding of the unique institutional and managerial challenges facing agribusiness firms. By integrating business management principles with applied technical knowledge, students develop practical decision-making skills to address challenges facing agribusiness firms in the production, processing and distribution of food and fiber in Texas, the nation, and the world. Students are prepared to work in both traditional agribusinesses and non-agricultural companies. Students in the B.S. in Agribusiness degree program will take selected coursework in the Mays Business School. For more information, please visit careercenter.tamu.edu.

Transfer Course Sheet Notes

1. Admission preference is given to applicants with the highest GPA and the most appropriate courses completed.
2. Transfer applicants are encouraged to complete University Core Curriculum coursework found in the Undergraduate Catalog unless specified above.
3. This Transfer Course Sheet was supported in a partnership between the Office of Admissions and the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at Texas A&M University with the Undergraduate Catalog having the most extant and definitive information.
