Career & Educational Opportunities

Society, Ethics, and Law (S.E.A.L.) is a University Studies degree that has been designed for students who are interested in pursuing law school, or developing a highly transferable skill set that is useful to non-profits and businesses alike. To this end, S.E.A.L.'s curriculum is primarily guided by the published recommendations of the American Bar Association (A.B.A.). While the A.B.A. does not recommend nor require any particular major, it does encourage prospective law students to i) pursue opportunities (courses and experiences) that cultivate a specific set of skills; ii) obtain experiences that "can help [them] hit the ground running when [they] become a lawyer;" and iii) develop "a broad understanding of history, including the various factors (social, political, economic, and cultural) that have influenced the development of our society in the United States."
