Additional Transfer Requirements

- Transfer applicants should have a 3.0 overall GPA, no more than 75 transferrable hours at the time of application and a B or better in all science courses and a calculus course.
- The Biomedical Sciences Program is looking for students who are interested in pursuing our degree as a focus. Students should indicate our department as the primary major they are interested in if they wish to be admitted. The essay and supporting materials should reflect that the student is interested in pursuing our degree.
- Meeting minimum requirements does not guarantee admission. The entire record is reviewed for consistency in coursework and grades.

Additional Information

• Transfer applicants are instructed NOT to accept transfer admission to any major with the expectation of later applying for an on-campus change of major.

Career & Educational Opportunities

Biomedical Sciences is a broad field of applied biology that is directed toward understanding health and disease. The program both emphasizes versatility in the biological and medical sciences and prioritizes a One Health approach to education through courses that emphasize the interconnectedness of animal, human, and environmental health, while bringing together students with interest in medical careers that impact all three. A highly effective counseling program assists students with the development of an individualized approach and course package that orients and prepares the students for entry into the medical, allied health field, or graduate program of their choice. Such an approach enhances their educational experiences, improves their placement in professional and graduate programs, and facilitates their entry into the biomedical science job market.
